COMMUNITY NOTES

News from Opendore and the Howland Stone Store Museum

As our summer and fall seasons come to a close and the Museum changes over to a “by appointment” format, behind the scenes activities still are ongoing.

The East porch is progressing very well, with 570 hours of volunteer work already recorded with steady progress being made. Please stop by and see the progress...

The education, collections, facilities, finance, executive, fundraising, technology, and publicity committees are already at work preparing for a 2025 season and our continued development and growth. There are so many opportunities for those with an interest in volunteering. Contact us if you have a desire to help with any aspect of what makes a museum function.

Also, another Reading and Discussion series is in the planning stage for the winter, with information being made available soon.

We've had much success this season with attendance at programs and visitation through tours and open hours. Well over 1000 people have taken advantage of all that the HSSM offers. Remember that tours can be arranged through the winter for anytime that is convenient for your group, just by contacting any board member; contact information is available on the HSSM website.

United Ministry of Aurora Memorial Brick Campaign

As you may know, The United Ministry of Aurora launched a Building Restoration Capital Campaign to raise funds to restore and repair much needed brick work on the 164-year-old building.

One of the phases of the campaign is to sell memorial bricks to line the sidewalk leading to the church entrance. We are excited to share that 124 bricks have been purchased and installed on the north side of the walkway and now we are taking orders for the south side. We expect this installation will take place in the spring. Don't miss out, order your brick(s) now to honor family members, a friend, or even a pet. Each brick is $100.

To order, please visit our website at:

<https://polarengraving.com/unitedministryofaurora>.

Questions may be directed to the UMA office at 315-364 8543.

Patrick Tavern Market Is Still Going Strong, Provides Help for Helene

Tuesdays at Patrick Tavern, 4:30-6:00 p.m. are still the place for seasonal food and local gifts. The last of the summer crops linger as long as weather allows as the winter crops begin to take center stage: apples, squash, potatoes and more. Baked goods, honey, fair trade chocolates, cards, leather goods remain prominent, and soon there will be fresh pork for pre-order, by the cut or by the bundle. The date for November's BBQ is yet to be announced, but watch for Chance on the smoker and Cookie's great meals.

In October, Patrick Tavern was also the staging site for "Rural to Rural," a relief effort for those in Western North Carolina impacted by Helene. The collection of household needs was organized by Alicia and Daryl Kirk and funded in part by the Ana Moon Marsh Memorial Fund. Donations literally filled Patrick Tavern, and the market bustled with customers and donors. By the time you receive this, supplies will be reaching remote locations by helicopter.

Thank You from the Book Lovers' Ball Committee

On Saturday, October 19 we celebrated the 20th Anniversary of the Book Lovers' Ball at Treleven Winery. 190 attendees filled a tent- tables adorned with autumn decorations including pumpkins, gourds, fairy lights and showy dahlia arrangements provided by Deb Lampman of Bedlam Gardens. They supped on a delicious dinner prepared by Cookie of Simply Cookie with an assortment of cupcakes to end the meal. Attendees enjoyed Treleven wines and local beers, and three varieties of craft beers donated by Aurora Ale. The Destination fired up tunes which kept everyone on their feet dancing. A silent auction with items for every taste and budget was a temptation once attendees took a break from dancing.

As wonderful an evening as it was, it could not have happened without the support of Treleven Winery, our dedicated sponsors and silent auction donors who make the event possible. A dedicated committee worked throughout the year to create a memorable evening. But most important, this was a fundraiser for the Aurora Free Library which is celebrating its 125th anniversary. We are grateful for the support of everyone who made this spectacular evening successful and memorable.

Perry Ground, a Turtle Clan member of the Onondaga Nation of the Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) Confederacy, has been a master storyteller and cultural educator for over 25 years. His engaging presentation appeals to people of all ages and enables him to teach about the history & culture of Native Peoples.

Filled with traditional Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) wisdom that has been told for hundreds of years, these stories reveal the beliefs, customs and history of the Haudenosaunee people. Storyteller Perry Ground brings the legends to life through vivid descriptions, his rhythmic voice and a very active stage presence. Stories become ‘interactive’ as Perry often includes audience members in the narration. Elements of traditional Haudenosaunee lifestyle and culture, pieces of historical information, and lots of humor are woven into each story. Intended for all listeners (young and old), everyone will find this presentation captivating, highly entertaining and very educational.

The program is funded in part by a grant from the Auburn Public Theater regranting program and is free.
