COMMUNITY NOTES

As the Seasons Change, So Do the Needs in Our Community

October brings beautiful fall days, but it also marks the beginning of a more challenging season for many local households.

Heating bills
begin to arrive.

Children are back in school.

The cost of groceries continues to rise.

Family budgets are under increasing pressure.

At the King Ferry Food Pantry, we see how these pressures can affect our neighbors. For some households, the pantry provides a little breathing room—helping stretch a grocery budget so there is enough left for rent, utilities, transportation, medicine, or other necessities. And as we move toward the colder months, that support becomes especially important.

Food is more than what is on a shelf.

It is a way our community
looks after one another.
Every box of cereal, bag of pasta,
can of vegetables, loaf of bread,
and fresh item that reaches a household represents someone in our community caring about the well-being of a neighbor.

The Great Give Back: Helping Fill Backpacks for Local Children

The Hazard and Aurora Libraries are partnering with the King Ferry Food Pantry.

Please help us collect foods for their BackPack Program, which provides food for weekends and school breaks to students experiencing food insecurity.

We invite community members to join in and help fill the backpacks!

Most wanted items:
tuna or chicken pouches
tuna or chicken salad kits pudding and Jello cups non-refrigerated pouch yogurts

Donations may be dropped off at either the Hazard Library or Aurora Library during the month of October.

Every donation makes a difference.

Patrick Tavern Market in October

Fall came right on schedule, and the Patrick Tavern Market's hours have changed accordingly: 4:30-5:30 p.m., every Tuesday. Mark your calendar so that you arrive in time to enjoy the full bounty of the season: a colorful sampler of a few of what's on offer is pictured below. But that's not all; the crops that store well for months are coming on, like potatoes (all colors), winter squash (many kinds; try the Red Kuri), and onions, including bunching onions. Grapes and pears are becoming regular items, and we hope for apples from the SHARE Farm and from Ron, whose superb honey and bee products are household necessities for many. (Thane's apples were hit by the spring frost.) Alicia's sourdough breads are likewise a necessity, with savory options like cheddar sourdough and sweet ones like maple pecan adding to the classic bread and pizza crusts. The San Pedro Sister Community tries to keep up with the demand for chocolate bars; more are always on order! You can also order coffee, nuts, tea, and hot chocolate. We hope to bring back dinners in October; watch for news. Do take a little time to tour the exhibit in Patrick Tavern: "Our Home: How We Saw It" and pick up "Seven Little Stories: Early Days at Patrick Tavern."

We have a variety of guest preachers on Sunday mornings who bring different perspectives and depth to our traditional worship services—with a little fun added.

Good Grief – Saturday, October 10, 11 a.m.

Grief is a lifelong process. Sometimes it sneaks up on us after years of tucking it away. Other times it is front and center in our lives. Please join us for a time of sharing, comfort, a few laughs, and hugs, whether it has been years since your loss, or recent.

Movie Night – Wednesday, October 14, 4:30 p.m. (movie starts at 4:45 p.m.)

Wells College Professor Emeritus of Religion Dr. Arthur Bellinzoni – Sunday, October 18, 4 p.m.

Wells College Professor Emeritus of Religion Dr. Arthur Bellinzoni will lead us in his monthly seminar, “The Post-Apocalyptic Churches.” It is in about 70 CE that individual churches begin to emerge in individual homes throughout the Mediterranean world. They rarely have any relationship to one another and rarely share any beliefs.

Father Vasyl Colopenic – Tuesday, October 20, 5:30 p.m.

Father Vasyl Colopenic from the St Peter and Paul Ukrainian Church in Auburn will once again visit with us and talk about what is happening in his country and how we can support his people as they deal with the grief and horror.

David Thomas: A Most Useful Man

Sunday, October 11, 2026

4:00 PM – 5:00 PM

Howland Stone Store Museum (map)

A member of America's first generation not to grow up as British subjects, David Thomas moved to the Town of Ledyard from a farm in Pennsylvania before the age of 30. Self-educated, intelligent, and a hard worker, he was modest and genial. Yet he was also one of the new breed - the distinct so-called "American 'type" - that would transform the new nation in the first decades of the 19th century. His achievements in agriculture and engineering contributed to unparalleled local prosperity and left lasting marks on our landscape. What was the character of this unassuming, remarkable man living amongst us?

Our presenter is Shirley Egan, President of the Aurora Ledyard Historical Society.

The Aurora Ledyard Historical Society is a co-sponsor of this event.
