Holiday Meals - Made Possible by You!

The holidays are a time for gathering, sharing, and enjoying a special meal with family and friends. At the King Ferry Food Pantry, we want to help make sure our neighbors have the food they need to celebrate, too.

For some local families and seniors living on limited incomes, rising grocery costs can make it difficult to afford a holiday meal while also keeping up with rent, utilities, medical expenses, and other necessities.

Your support can help make a difference. A gift of $50 will help us provide holiday meal ingredients for neighbors who rely on the pantry.

The King Ferry Food Pantry serves residents of the Southern Cayuga School District, providing fresh produce, dairy, frozen meats/proteins, pantry staples, and other nutritious foods throughout the year.

Thank you for helping make the holidays a little brighter - and a little more abundant - for our neighbors struggling with food insecurity.

Patrick Tavern Market in November

Yes, the Patrick Tavern Market is still going in November! Its last day for 2026 is December 8. This is the season for cozy meals, and the Market has the makings: potatoes, winter squashes of all shapes and colors, apples, hardy greens, leeks, herbs, and more, plus bread, chocolate, honey, and a wide range of bee products. To brighten the home, Debi offers bouquets of everlastings and will have wreaths. It's not too early to think of gifts and cards; you'll love Ellen's Monarch Butterfly cards. We're working on at least one take-home meal, too. The time is still 4:30-5:30 p.m., and we'll more likely be inside, around the cheerful stoves.

The current show, "Our Home," is entering its final month with some new additions to the story; a facsimile of the 1805 map has been added, and "The College Home" corner will bring out some Weihnachten photos to enjoy. In addition to every Tuesday in November, Patrick Tavern will be open 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Nov. 14. Be sure to stop by, and Happy Thanksgiving!

"OPENDORE - THEN AND NOW"

Sunday, November 22, 4 p.m.

National Women's Hall of Fame

This year, 11 women were inducted into the NWHF in Seneca Falls. Among those inducted was S. Mona Sinha, the chief executive officer of Equality Now. She leads global efforts to change laws that discriminate against women and girls. Social justice, strengthening women's rights movements and the voices that are often unheard. 90+ different organizations have benefited from her efforts as in her own way, she carries on with the same kind of work for which we honor Emily. Take some time to learn about all the other inductees by going to the Hall of Fame website.

From our collection: "The Isle of Leisure"

The Isle of Leisure.

Compulsory education of women over 70 is advocated, and only partly in whimsy, by Miss Emily Howland, 99, who recently became the first woman honored with a degree by the regents of the University of the State of New York.

Born of Quaker stock, a teacher, Civil War nurse, suffragist and thirty years ago called the first woman director of a bank—an office she still holds—this pioneer in the broadening field of woman's activity still manages her own affairs and runs two farms. She is described as alert and sprightly, with twinkling eyes and a rippling smile. Her philosophy of life is worth quoting:

Most women seem to think they must "feel old" as decades multiply and that they are justified in being useless. There's no need of becoming a nuisance just because we're living on. I wish there were compulsory education for women over 70. Every woman has something she has always wanted to do and couldn't because there wasn't time enough. When we reach the Isle of Leisure, past 70, that's our opportunity. Since there is no School for the Aged, we must make our own school. We can teach ourselves. Wherever the younger generation takes our work out of our hands it is our own fault. We let it slip because we do not keep at it. I do not jump rope any more. I've found out what I can do and what I cannot, and I keep going—within my limitations.

Miss Howland is not old. She never will be. Nor need her near-contemporaries think they are, just because they cannot "jump rope."

Ben will explore these questions and more about this national phenomenon.

Good Grief – Saturday, November 14, 4 p.m.

Dr. Arthur Bellinzoni, Wells Professor of Religion Emeritus – Sunday, November 15, 4 p.m.
This seminar is about the Post-Apostolic Christianities, beginning with Christian-Judaisms or Jewish Christianities in Jerusalem and some eastern areas with Peter, John, and Jesus's brother James and the more Hellenistic Jewish rival Paul. Jesus was born a Jew, preached as a Jew, and died as a Jew. How could Judaism be cast aside?

Movie Night, Boys in the Boat – Wednesday, November 18, 4 p.m.
This is a true-story biographical sports drama film directed by George Clooney (2023). It chronicles the improbable journey of the University of Washington men's rowing team as they rise from working-class poverty during the Great Depression to win gold at the 1936 Berlin Olympics. Refreshments will be served. Come join friends for a wonderful movie!

This lively, engaging, and content-based presentation will give an overview of the history of this very misunderstood holiday. Based on the only primary source document that chronicles the "First Thanksgiving" and using a true/false format in a PowerPoint presentation, participants will learn accurate and culturally appropriate information about the English settlers at Plymouth and the Wampanoag, the Native people who inhabited that area. The presentation will discuss the actual events of 1621 in Plymouth, the relationship between the English settlers and the Wampanoag and how this story became the holiday we know today. The concept of thanksgiving held by many Native Americans will be emphasized throughout.

Although they were not present in Plymouth in 1621, connections to the Haudenosaunee (Iroquois) concepts of Thanksgiving will be discussed so students will understand how Native Peoples view Thanksgiving today.
